Inclinations of the body, the applied force and aerodynamics play an important role to the orbit of the shoot

BASKET

Our coach insists that we must learn to shoot properly. In many trainings we only shoot to the basket.

Flexibility is also necessary! We will make our body to work like a machine!

My coach told me that I should gain the power to play in my proper position.

Let the students describe their own experiences from basketball or the other sports they play.

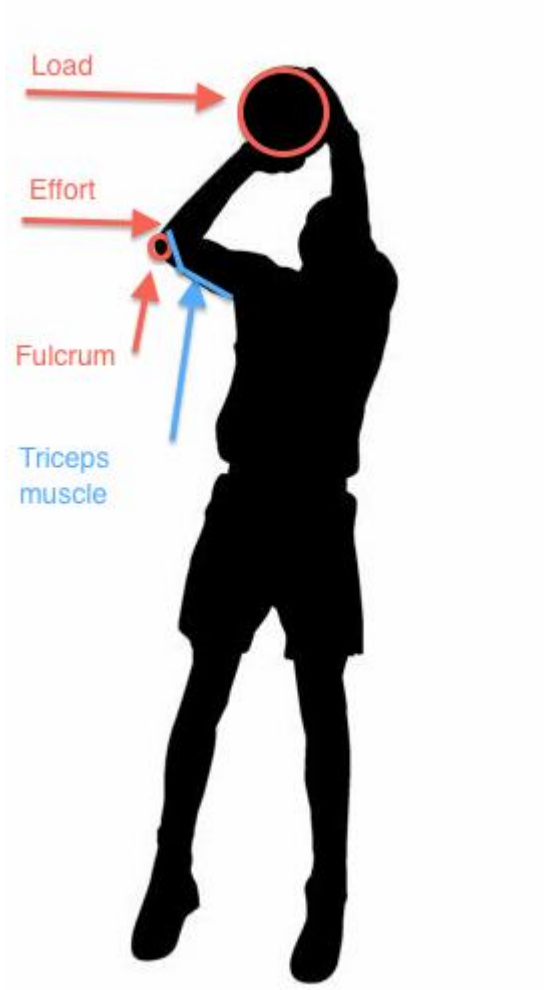

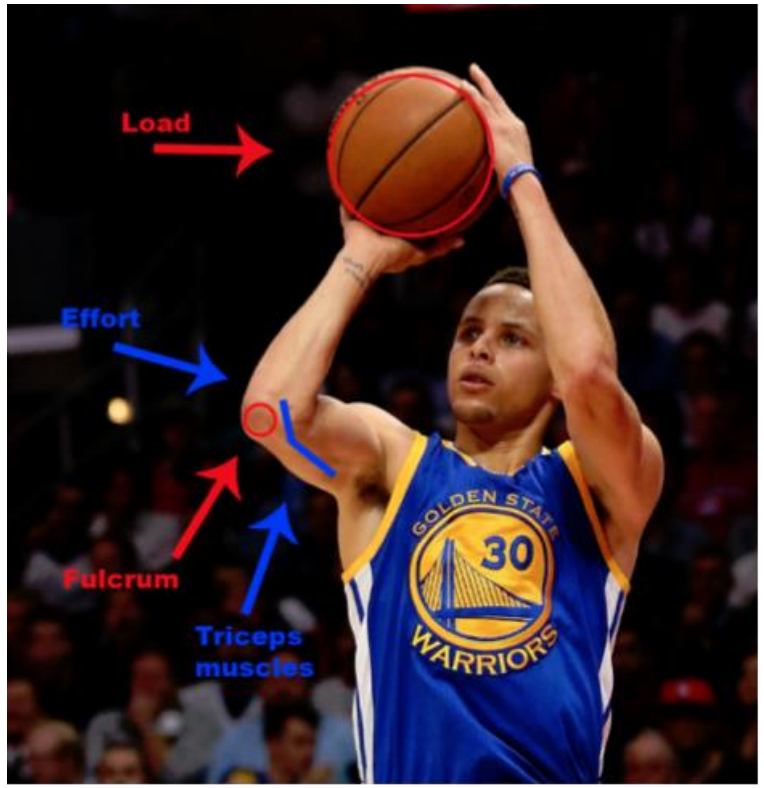

All we said are studied in Bioengineering, which aims athletes to achieve their best performance with as less injuries as possible.
